Some Rats

W. J. Mountz has invented a new method of catching rats that is very successful. Recently he had a can of sardines that had been opened and not been used, and by way of experiment, put them in a rat trap that had been lying about the place for some time. Next morning he was more than surprised to find a number of rats in the trap and tried the same method again. In four nights he caught 34 rats—eleven being in the trap at one time. This, we think, is a record for a small wire trap.

New Graded School

According to plans which are well under way, there will be a new graded school district formed in Clark county just over the Powell county line. A site has been selected and donated for that purpose and $2,000 has been subscribed by those living in the neighborhood. The Clark County Board of Education will select the exact location within a few days, and work will be commenced on the building as soon as possible. The building will be of brick and will be on the Mt. Sterling Pike, between Indian Fields and Kiddville. Most of the children from that neighborhood attend the Winchester schools at present.

Oil Drills Here

The drilling outfit of B. A. Bonville arrived here a few days ago and has been unloaded and made ready for operation. The first well will probably be sunk on the farm of Squire Welch or on that of S. G. Baker.

Said bonds, if issued, to bear interest at a rate not to exceed five per centum per annum, with coupons attached, payable semi-annually, bonds to be in denominations of not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars each, and not less than five nor more than thirty years, redeemable within that time at the pleasure of the Fiscal Court, and to be sold at not less than par value and accrued interest.

H. T. DERICKSON,
Sheriff of Powell County,
Kentucky.

Last week we made a small error in stating the price of the lots purchased at the sale by Mrs. B. Akers. The price was $17 per lot, instead of $12, as we had it.

Snipe Hunting

A party of young folks went snipe hunting Tuesday night over near the dam, and all the members of the crowd enjoyed the sport immensely. The one who didn't see all the fun was Jack Gallaher, of the Pearate staff; who was elected to hold the sack and bring the game home. Jack was placed in a good location and left to gather in the game while the others drove it to him, and he stayed, faithful to the job, for several hours; after which he was relieved by other members of the party—who became anxious for his safety.

Circuit Court Monday

Circuit Court opens Monday at Stanton with Judge Shackelford on the bench for his first term here. The docket is rather lighter than usual for the term.

STANTON.

(By P. Q. Derthick.)

Circuit Court opens up next Monday. It is Judge Shackelford's first term. Daddy Clark is in Breathitt this week on business.

Herb Hall of Jackson was here Tuesday on legal business.

J. D. Atkinson was in Clay City last Saturday on business.

Rev. J. C. Hanley was in Lexington first of the week, on business.

J. S. Ewen made a business trip to Winchester, the first of this week.

Mrs. Georgia Williams and Mamie, are visiting at Dr. Mansfield's this week.

The writer attended the Ministerial Association of Central Kentucky at Lexington, Monday.

Mrs. M. Boone and daughter, Ora, spent several days with her parents at Mt. Canaan, recent.

Miss Eula Webb of Lexington visited her grandmother Mrs. Anna Creed, from Friday to Sunday.

Mrs. Leth Barnes and her daughter Willie, of Indiana, are visiting with her sister Mrs. Effie Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Swango, of Morris Creek, are the proud parents of a new girl baby at their home last Thursday.

Misses Mollie Lilly Pearl, and Daisy Johnson, accompanied by Miss Bertha Carver, spent over Sunday with home folks at Talega.

Mrs. Ida Boone and daughter, Maud, accompanied by Dr. Johnson, were in Lexington last week to consult a Doctor in regard to Mrs. Boone.

Robert Conlee and wife visited in Berea, with Mrs. Anna Blackburn and children, and in Richmond with Irvin and Lewis Conlee and their family.

The Lexington Herald says: "Mrs. J. H. Hardwick, of Winchester, entertained with a charming six o'clock dinner in honor of Miss Charlotte Murgett of Michigan, and Floyd Clay.

Ephram and Mack Hutton left Tuesday for near McRoberts for their work. Mack has been visiting home folks on Hutton Creek for a few days. Eph returned with him to get a job.

An electric bell is being installed at the Welch crossing this week. This has always been a bad crossing and the bell will be appreciated by all those who have to use the crossing.

The canning factory will run again this year, which is good news to us. We are informed, also, that the factory will not go to Winchester, as was once thought, but will remain here for the present.

Miss Pearl Skidmore, daughter of Wiley Skidmore, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. W. R. Catron, this week. Pearl attended school here two years ago but she has grown so fast that we hardly knew her when we saw her.

The writer was called to Fincastle to perform a wedding ceremony Wednesday night. Oscar Gentry and Miss Morgan were the happy couple. They have had a hard time getting married, having met with parental objection till the girl became of age.

A Lanfrom and wife have returned home to Chicago. They spent some six weeks with F. G. Watson and wife of Mt. Canaan, who were both sick in bed when they left. Mrs. Watson having been seriously ill several weeks and not seeming to improve.

Miss Anna Clark made a flying trip to Campton Junction last Saturday in the interest of a school. We would like to drop a bee in some school trustee's ear that if you want a teacher of splendid character and ability, you could not do better than get Anna to teach your school.

Last Saturday, John W. Williams entertained many of his friends with a birthday dinner. Henry Williams and grandson, Mrs. Ward and daughter, and Mrs. Georgia Thompson, were among those from out of town. We have not learned of the others who attended. It was the occasion of Mr. Williams' 79th birthday. The usual enjoyable time was had, and the table was loaded down with a world of good things to eat. May he have many more such birthdays.

The following were present at a very pleasant party given in honor of Margaret Norton's birthday, last week: Misses Margaret Lyle, Hattie Hardwick, Margaret Mansfield, Vasa Jones, Nora Johnson, Nora Martin, Nancy Atkinson, Regent Snowden, Mamie Derickson, and Mrs. Daisy Ewen. Messrs. Charley and Guy Crowe, George and Hult Derickson, Gopher, Lewis Floyd and Virgil Martin, Prof. Ritchie, DeCoursey Lawson, Guy Watson, Herbert Jones, Monroe Faulkner, Zeke Brashear, Donald Bohannon, James Atkinson, Avert Faulkner, Ben Kincaid, James and Seldon Chaney and Robert Morris.

The fence for the cemetery has already been ordered. As we did not have enough money to buy what we wanted in front, we have ordered a good, strong field fence for the other three sides. We are going to go ahead and raise more money for a good fence in front. We can have a very nice and a good, strong serviceable fence for about $100 for the front. The writer was going to order a woven-wire fence for the front, but so many requested that it be more of an ornamental fence in front that we will try to get it. The cheapest ornamental fence costs at the least about 50c a foot, and there are

SLADE.

(Crowded out last week.)

Emmet Akers has moved to Lexington.

Deputy Sheriff Derickson was here last week summoning people to Court.

Wm. Ashley is still improving. It is hoped he may get home in three weeks.

Mrs. Jack Hall, at the Good Samaritan Hospital, is reported a little improved.

George Faulkner sold to Alvin Faulkner of Stanton 11 shoats at 64 cents a pound.

Miss Maudie Bowen, who is teaching in the Clay City graded school, visited her parents here.

The drilling outfit is here and a well will be sunk as soon as possible on the farm of W. B. Comgleton.

Elijah Moreland of near Bowen took the contract to unload and haul the drill from depot to Mr. Comgleton's farm. The first well will be sunk just back of his house.

A petition is being circulated about here to have Boh Dennis, of Nada, appointed as magistrate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of G. S. Spurlock. Mr. Dennis stands well in the opinion of the people here, and would make an excellent officer. The people could hardly be better pleased than by his appointment.

The whole community was shocked and grieved to hear of the sudden death of magistrate Green Spurlock. He had been complaining but was able to go about, and no one was expecting his death. The cause was a paralytic stroke or neuralgia of the heart. Mr. Spurlock will be greatly missed, and it will be hard to find a man to fill his place in office.

Facts:—Kentucky is usually classed, both in print and in conversations, as a "wet" State; which is a serious mistake, as out of the 120 counties comprising the Commonwealth, 108 are prohibition counties, or "dry," and 75 per cent of the population is in this dry territory. The 1914 Legislature enacted an anti-liquor shipping act, and also provided for search and seizure of liquor, and we hope our next Grand Jury will look up this law and see why our officers do not enforce it. The state-wide prohibition measure brought before the House last month only failed of passage by 6 votes, and will pass next time it comes up. Our Senator, Dr. J. H. Evans, and our Representative, E. B. McGlone, voted right with the "drys," and we hope to see both sent back for another term. Nineteen of the States of the Union are now "dry" and it will not be long till we have National prohibition.

VIRDEN

Mr. Butch Williams is going to move from here down near Lexington.

Rev. M. P. Lowry of Winchester will preach at Virden the 3rd Sunday in this month.

Mrs. T. B. Ware is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Nannie Hughes, at Schoolville this week.

Mrs. O. O. Curtis, and Mrs. Henry Smitson were visiting Mrs. T. B. Ware last Thursday evening.

Misses Lilly and Mary Ware spent the day with Miss Sarah Olemons and little Grace. Last Sunday.

Jack Eades, a plumber of Winchester, was here Tuesday taking the heater from both rooms back with him to the shop for repairs.

YOUNGSTER'S VIEWS OF LIFE

To Be Compelled to Give Affection to Something They Cannot Always Understand.

The world seems to be full of what may be called canalized emotions. One is "supposed" to love one's aunt or one's grandfather in a certain definite way, at the risk of being "unnatural." One gets almost a sense of the quantitative measurement of emotion. Perhaps the greatest tragedy of family life is the useless energy that is expended by the dutiful in keeping these artificial channels open, and the correct amount of current running. It is exactly this that produces most infallibly the rebellion of the younger generation. To hear that one ought to love this or that person; or to hear loyalty spoken of as the older generation so often speaks of it, as if it consisted in an allegiance to something which one no longer believes in—this is what soonest liberates those forces of madness and revolt which bewilder spiritual teachers and guides. It is exactly those dry channels of duty and obligation through which no living waters of emotion flow that it is the ideal of the younger generation to break up. They will have no network of emotional canals which are not brimming, no duties which are not equally loves. —Randolph S. Bourne in Atlantic.

SEA TONNAGE LITTLE KNOWN

Nautical Terms That a Landman as a General Thing Has Small Acquaintance With.

There is a great deal of confusion in the public mind regarding the "tonnage" or "displacement" of ships, and with good reason, for there are four distinct methods of calculating tonnage. In the case of warships the term displacement is almost always used. The displacement tonnage is the space occupied by the vessel in the water. The amount of water displaced by the ship is equal in weight to the ship and all it contains. As one ton is equal to 35 cubic feet of water, the displacement tonnage is found by dividing the number of cubic feet of water displaced by 35, when the ship is immersed up to its load line.

Gross tonnage is a term commonly applied to merchantmen. In calculating it, the whole interior capacity of the ship below the tonnage deck is found, including that of all covered-in spaces on deck used for stowage, and the result in cubic feet is divided by 100. Net register tonnage is the gross tonnage minus all the spaces used for the accommodation of the crew and instruments and the working parts of the ship. The dead-weight tonnage is the measure of the exact amount of cargo a ship can carry with safety.

J. W. McIntosh sold the large eagle he got at Maloney a couple of months ago, to Baggage-master Fletcher, of the L. & N. "Mac" says the bird got to be too heavy on the rations, and it required the services of two men most of the time catching rabbits and chickens to feed it. The bird's wing had recovered from the injury it received at the time of its capture, and it was a splendid specimen.

Will Not Move

"The Pearsite Company of Clay City has closed a deal with the Citizens National Bank for the lease of the second story of their building in which will be located the local offices of the company."—Winchester Sun.

This item is not correct, as it was The Ala-Ky-Va Company which leased this property, and not the Pearsite Co. The error probably arose from the fact that Mr. O. H. Searles, son of L. W. Searles, Supt. of the Pearsite Co. here, and J. R. Adams, son of Capt. J. W. Adams, an officer of the Pearsite Co., are connected with the new firm, which will do a general civil engineering business in Alabama, Kentucky and Virginia.

At the office of the Pearsite Company here it was stated that there is no connection whatever between the two concerns and no probability whatever of the Pearsite Company's office, being removed from here.

H. G. Crabtree spent this week on business in Lee county.

New Dry Kiln At The Big Mill

Brodhead & Garrett have just completed the installation of a new dry kiln at their mill and will have it in use within a short time. The mill will probably saw out most of their timber in this neighborhood before the end of this year, but arrangements are being made to ship logs here from their timber property in the mountains. In any event, the planing mill will remain here, which is good news to the Powell county people.

Fine Report

In response to the unexpected call of the Comptroller of Currency, the statement of The Clay City National Bank appears in this issue.

This is, as always, an excellent report; and the fact that there is over $100,000.00 on deposit in this bank, shows the confidence of Powell county people, both in the bank, itself, and in the officials connected with it.
